An Interview With:

UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN
COACH LISA STONE
JOLENE ANDERSON
JANESE BANKS

THE MODERATOR: We've got Coach Stone, Jolene Anderson and Janese Banks.

COACH LISA STONE: I am disappointed in our lack of energy and our lack of intensity from the start. I certainly give Illinois credit. They came out with a great defensive focus and really hammered the boards. We were down 12-5 at one juncture but rebounded from it.

Even though we were lacking energy for whatever reason, we were still within four. We came out of the locker room and scored right away. Illinois was on a 25-5 run and we couldn't stop the bleeding.

We didn't shoot the ball very well; 26 percent in the second half is just not going to get it done.

We couldn't take advantage when they took Jenna Smith out of the game. We needed to take advantage of the fact that she was on the bench. They tried to rest her, which was smart, but we didn't take advantage.

I thought Jolene [Anderson] had a great performance. She did everything she could to win the game for us, but we needed a little bit of help.

I thought Alyssa Karel played well for a freshman in her first Big Ten Tournament. Danielle Ward got loosened up in the post, but it wasn't enough firepower tonight.

THE MODERATOR: Now we'll open it up to questions for the student-athletes.

Q. Jolene [Anderson] and Janese [Banks], could you sense the lack of energy from the start, or did that surprise you?

JOLENE ANDERSON: It definitely wasn't there during the first four minutes of the basketball game. Illinois came out of the gate strong and we have to give them credit. They were ready for this basketball game.

I think all eight or nine of Illinois' players are in it together, and none of us were in it together as a team. No one came ready to play.

JANESE BANKS: It definitely surprised me. When we first started, I felt like we were going to have energy. I thought we were going to battle, but it dwindled down and nobody really showed emotion. I don't think anybody wanted to play like that. As a unit we couldn't get together. A few players had some energy but we couldn't find that cohesiveness.

Q. Janese, toward the end of the first half you pulled within three twice and were down six at the half. What did you talk about coming out after half time?

JANESE BANKS: We knew we had to crash the boards. That was the thing that would turn it in the first half. I thought we were right there. We knew we weren't shooting the ball particularly well so we knew we wanted to take high percentage shots and just play together.

But going in the locker room, everybody was fine – no one seemed scared or nervous.

Q. Jolene, how pivotal was the run in the second half?

JOLENE ANDERSON: Illinois definitely came out of the locker room strong. I think it comes back to the first half. We had nine straight stops in a row. We didn't capitalize on any of them or maybe three of them at most.

Once we get a stop in the first half and capitalize, we go into half time in a better position than we did. We knew they were going to come out strong; they were ready to play.

We have to get better, obviously, and hopefully that's something that we'll work on.

Q. Jolene, does the loss take away the excitement of the award today?

JOLENE ANDERSON: It definitely does, because I just wanted my team to win. Any award I get just goes on the back burner. It hurts that our basketball team didn't get the 'W,' but you just have to move on.

THE MODERATOR: Thank you, ladies.

Q. Lisa, I don't mean to pile on here. But your team, in conference schemes, gave up more points than any other team. You were tenth in field goal defense, tenth in 3-point defense. What do you do between the end of this season and the start of next to fix that?

COACH LISA STONE: We talked a little bit about that. It was disappointing for us to go and give up more than we wanted to. It's very disappointing for us.

What do we do? We scratch what we've been doing. We start over. We really do. We take a good strong look at our defense and emulate. The coaching staff and I have talked about whether we go to zone principles or an arm's distance.

Actually, we're fouling too much. We're getting up and guarding people. You can't put a team like Illinois on the line 29 times.

It would be interesting to find out that statistic: how many points we're giving up at the free throw line. I think that's certainly coupled with open looks and drives to the basket. We need to fix it. There's no question. It needs addressing immediately.

And we will. I think we've got a younger, eager team with 11 freshmen and sophomores whose attitudes are, "Show us where, when and how to do it, and we'll do it." We're going to go back to square one with our defense, no question about it.

Q. Lisa, what did you talk about at the half or did you want to make any changes going into the second half?

COACH LISA STONE As poor as we played in the first half with no energy, I was feeling pretty good at halftime.

I went in and said, "Ladies, we're right there as far as how poorly we played. You need to amp it up. Let's get a defensive stop right away and start attacking the basket. Get better shots, get better screens. Go inside-out. Play together. Stick it out and make some things happen." Defensively, we wanted to double Jenna [Smith] a little bit harder. She got too many easy looks in the first half.

Then [Rebecca] Harris took off. And then came [Lacey] Simpson and [Chelsea] Gordon and Lori Bjork, who had five points. And that says a lot about Lori Bjork. She's a good player.

If she has to score 20, she will. If she doesn't, she'll assist and do other things. We wanted to be more aggressive defensively. We went with the same starting lineup. We had to start small. Alyssa Karel was running 30 minutes out there and we had her and Rae [Lin D'Alie] in at the same time because we were trying to find some aggressiveness.

I was trying to find energy, and it just didn't happen. That is what's disappointing. I don't know how you can come here and not be fired up for this tournament. It's disappointing to me.

Q. How surprised are you that Jolene was really the only one that could score given how balanced you guys have been in the last half of the season?

COACH LISA STONE: Well, I like the fact that we got Danielle [Ward] going in the first half - that was pretty good. Alyssa [Karel] got to the basket a couple of times but we shot the ball poorly in other areas. The fact that Jolene double-doubled and had five assists and three steals, is miraculous considering the approach.

Illinois face-guarded her [Jolene Anderson] the whole game. It's not easy to score those kind of points with that type of defense, but it wasn't enough. We needed scoring from other places and more consistently, and we just didn't get it.

THE MODERATOR: Thank you.
